Maple Syrup Cookies

Ingredients

- 1 cup butter, softened
- 1 cup packed brown sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 cup real maple syrup
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- half teaspoon salt
- 4 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/3 cup granulated sugar

Directions

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease cookie sheets. In a large bowl, cream the butter and brown sugar. Add the egg, syrup and vanilla. Mix until well blended. Sift together the flour, salt and baking soda. Stir into mixture until well blended. Shape into one inch balls and roll in sugar. Place on cookie sheets (I use parchment paper) about 2 inches apart and flatten slightly. Bake 10 to 12 minutes. Cool on wire rack.

The maple syrup was compliments of neighbor Brandon who tapped a tree in his backyard...and yes, I shared the cookies.

All the news I see fit to print.

Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.

Remember Dr Deborah Bix? She's working for a firm in Texas that claims their air purifier will destroy Covid. She's also on TV selling her new book where she repeats all the lies about Trump and Covid. Maybe she should hire "Dr." Jill Biden's PR team...the "Dr." has sold 250 copies of her biography so far.

The gang is getting back together helping the Democrats with warnings of another Covid "emergency" just before the November elections. I guess that's to help usher in another round of lockdowns and election fraud. They best be careful...tar is selling for $13 at Walmart and feathers can be found on the internet for as low as $4...sales tax too, of course. By adding the tax, some intelligent Democrats would approve of this response to these two idiots. Or maybe we could borrow that rope from Juicy Smellsit? Or the one the FBI confiscated from the Nascar garage door?

Book Report

That Jack Reacher midget (Tom Cruise) and Hollyweird got together again and completely screwed up the plot of this Lee Child book. Spent huge amount of time on car chases and crashes and ignored the story. The lady who played the pivotal character in the book came across as a complete nitwit. Ironic since this one was great BECAUSE of the intricate plot. Amazon began with the debut novel Killing Floor. You could almost follow the movie with the book. The Cruise/Hollyweird versions interrupted the plot so often with needless action that it was difficult to keep track of what was happening.

Violating hundreds of years of norms and ethics, a leaked memo that came from within the Supreme Court shows a majority willing to overturn the half-century-old Roe v. Wade decision. Did the leak come from one of the leftist judge's camps? All three of the most hardline justices are women and the most fervent in their abortion ideology. Maybe not the justices themselves, but someone in their own camp did it? A young, woke intern perhaps?

Jonathan Turley, Shapiro Chair of Public Interest Law at George Washington University: "The alleged leak of the opinion in Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization is nothing short of breathtaking. It would constitute one of the greatest breaches of security in the history of the Court...The only intent of such a leak is to trigger a response from outside of the Court. This draft is from February and the majority can shift on such opinions...The most likely motivation is obviously to pressure the Court and push the legislation in Congress on a federal abortion law before the midterm elections. It will also renew the call for court packing."

Don't blame Joe: Joe Biden entered the senate in 1973, the same year the Supreme Court legalized abortion in its Roe v. Wade decision. He has evolved from being strongly pro-life to rabidly pro-abortion. Here is a list of his changing positions.

1974: A year after Roe v. Wade was decided, Joe said the ruling had gone "too far" and that a woman seeking an abortion should not have the "sole right to say what should happen to her body."

1976: Joe votes for the "Hyde Amendment" which bans federal funding of abortions.

1981: Joe introduces the "Biden Amendment" which prohibits foreign-aid funding of biomedical research involving abortion.

1982: Joe votes for a constitutional amendment allowing states to overturn Roe v. Wade.

1983: Joe votes against a constitutional amendment allowing states to overturn Roe v. Wade.

1984: Joe votes for the Mexico City Policy which bans federal funding for abortions.

1987: Joe becomes chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and leads the fight against Supreme Court nominee Judge Robert Bork, whom he said was opposed to Roe v. Wade.

2022: Ketanji Brown Jackson, Joe's SCOTUS pick, is pro-abortion.

However, when you realize that the abortion industry revenue is approaching $2 BILLION annually (and that's just Planned Parenthood) maybe Joe is after his 10 per cent?

Mal Mots

The best things in life are actually very expensive.

You're welcome

Congratulations!

You made it past the Democrats and Planned Parenthood!

Can men get abortions?

(Asking for a friend.)

Federal Election Commission records reveal that Soros and his groups gave at least $25,274,455 collectively to 11 radical abortion groups like Planned Parenthood Action Fund and its affiliates between 2016 and 2020. The Kaiser Family Foundation estimated in 2019 that the median cost for an abortion at 10 weeks' gestation was $500. I'll let you do the search to find out how many abortions (at the median cost of $500 each) during those four years and ask this: is abortion an ideology or is it about the money?

When you figure out how many lawyers are involved...all the way up to the top lawyers at the Supreme Court...I'm guessing it's about the money. Now add the politicians raising money off the issue...yup!

Until next week...
