

Recipe Corner BBQ Riblets

Cut boneless ribs into bite size pieces. Chop half a sweet onion for the bottom of the crockpot. Add garlic bits (I use about four TBS). Drop riblets over onion/garlic. Squirt BBQ sauce over the riblets. Turn slow cooker to high for first two hours then low for next four hours. You can make your own sauce but I find this one just as good:

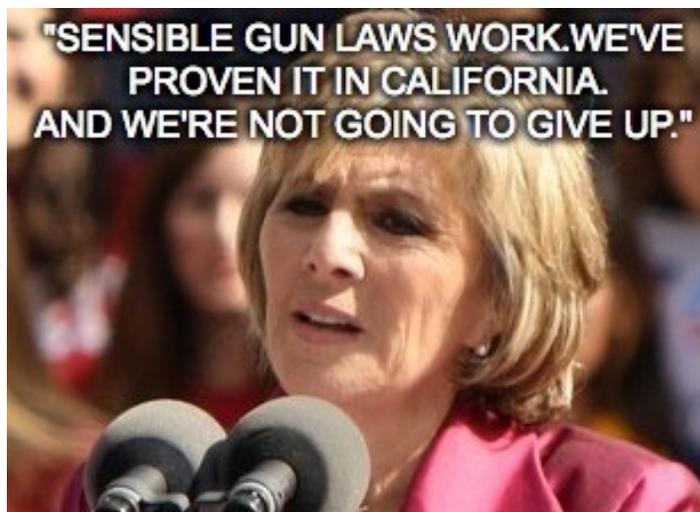

Freeze the cooked riblets into portion sizes. You can also mash the cooked riblets for tortillas and sandwiches instead of pulled pork. Also great with rice and beans cooked with bits of bacon. Five pounds of riblets for $2.50 almost as good as 12 lamb chops for $10. You can still buy sirloin steaks but they are delivered in an armored car with two armed guards.

Freedom of the press belongs to those who own one.*

According to the FBI, there were 61 "active shooter incidents" across the country in 2021 and 12 of the incidents met the definition of a "mass killing."

California led the nation with six "active shooter incidents."

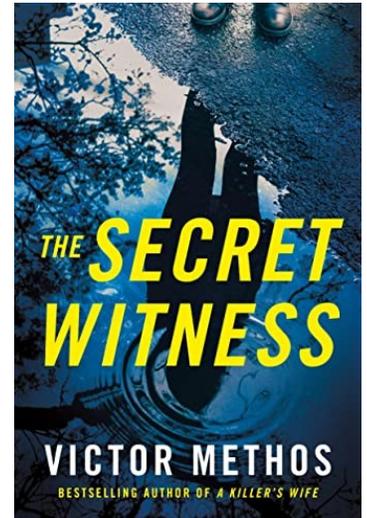

California has universal background checks, an "assault weapons" ban, a "high capacity" magazine ban, a 10-day waiting period on gun purchases, a red flag law, gun registration requirements, a "good cause" requirement for concealed carry permit issuance, a ban on carrying a gun on a college campus for self-defense, a ban on K-12 teachers being armed on campus for classroom defense, a background check requirement for ammunition purchases, and a limit on the number of guns a law-abiding citizen can purchase in a given month, among other controls. Ammunition purchases are only allowed if made through a state-approved vendor.

The United States is 3rd in murders throughout the world. If you remove Chicago, Detroit, Washington D.C., St. Louis and New Orleans, it becomes 189th out of 193.

All five have strict gun laws and are run by Democrats.

Book Report

This was the June Amazon Prime free ebook...and glad I chose it as Methos is a prolific and great legal thriller author who also practices law. Huge list of books already available and hope all are as good as this one. Tracking down his debut which is based on a very interesting personal case. www.bookseriesinorder.com/victor-methos/ more about him (including the fact that he was born in Afghanistan) as well as a list of his books.

If you are a clueless, virtue signaling politician:

Here's Your Sign!

Back story about these signs...the guy who figured out the parking ticket cost $35 while parking lots in the area charged $40 an hour.

Now for the virtue signaling:

98.4 percent of mass public shootings from 1950 to July 2016 occurred in gun free zones.

Nearly 34% of high school seniors said they used illegal marijuana in past year.

By senior year, 50% have tried an illegal drug, 20% will have used a prescription drug for a non-medical purpose, according to the National Institute on Drug Abuse.

Maybe we need bigger signs?
How about orange T shirts?

Liberal politicians blame guns and the NRA. Here's a suggestion from the NRA that makes more common sense than the rabid rage directed at inanimate objects:

"America has a critical mental health crisis. Many are sick, too few people are able to recognize their illness, and even less get help. The sad reality is there are too few resources for those who need it. Over the last 60 years, the number of beds available at psychiatric hospitals in America has dropped by 96 percent. In 1955, there were an estimated 340 beds per 100,000 people with mental health illnesses. In 2016, that number fell to 11.7 beds per 100,000 people. We must find a way to reach these people before they hurt themselves or others. And, we must fund places for these people to find refuge and treatment."

Liberal "red flag" laws are designed to confiscate guns without due process. What about "confiscating" the person rather than the gun and get them the help they need...as "proven" by the red flag law? I guess that makes too much sense?

OK...if you did use red flag laws, on people rather than guns, taxpayers could have most of our politicians confiscated and in a mental ward...which can also describe the current congressional chambers.

Meanwhile, Tennessee's database for handgun carry permit holders was cross-referenced with crime statistics in those zip codes. Areas where gun ownership was highest, burglaries were correspondingly lower. Conversely, in areas with relatively low gun ownership, burglaries were considerably higher. Duh?

Maybe it's people who are the problem and not those inanimate objects?

Things that make you smile

Jerry Nadler has repped a district running down the Upper West Side while Carolyn Maloney's has held down the Upper East Side. A redrawn 12th district threw east and west together for a new district being 60% Maloney's. Nadler jumped into the new district race, rather than face alien territory in his redrawn district. Maloney and Nadler both came to Congress within months of each other in 1992 and 1993 and have spent three decades on friendly terms — which is why it stung when Nadler never even gave her a courtesy call to let her know his intention to run in her district, Maloney said. Nadler, 74, serves as chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, while Maloney, 76, rules the House Oversight Committee — positions they both claimed in 2019.
